German Swims Remarkable Race

Finishes Lake Ontario Marathon Three and One Half Hours Ahead of His Nearest Competitor—Wins $20,000 Prize—French Baker Comes in Second.

Toronto, Sept. 1 (AP).—A German baker, Ernst Vierkoetter, was $30,000 richer today for having conquered a 21 mile triangular stretch in Lake Ontario's chilly waters yesterday in 11 hours, 42 minutes, 12 seconds. At 12:45 a. m. today, three and one half hours after Vierkoetter had crossed the finish line, Georges Michel, a French baker, came in second to win second prize of $7,500. William Erickson of New York, completed the last lap shortly after 3 o'clock this morning, finishing third. He was the last to remain in the water.

The weaker of more than 200 starters early were forced out of the gruelling endurance test, and eight hours after the field was sent away there were only 31 survivors. The ice-cold water and the terrific pace of Vierkoetter, averaging 30 strokes to the minute, was too much even for the stalwart George Young, 17-year old Canadian giant, who last winter captured first place in the Catalina marathon.

Although Young had been named the favorite and had taken an early lead, he collapsed and had to be taken from the water shortly after the five mile mark had been passed. Shortly before his withdrawal Vierkoetter had closed in on Young, passed him and taken a substantial lead.

Vierkoetter swam a very remarkable race, and even as he took the turn going into the last mile there was no quickening of his stride. The husky Rhinelander appeared to be strong as he touched bottom and walked into the arms of his handlers to receive a tremendous ovation from thousands of spectators.

Michel, who crowded into second place shortly before six o'clock last night, finished in the stretch with a 34 to the minute trudgeon. He also was in good condition and stood by several minutes while the photographers boomed their flashlights. None of the women entrants could stand the grind. Miss Martha Stager of Portland, Ore., was the last woman to quit. She was taken out of the water at 12:08 a. m. today. Louie Moore Schoemmel, Edith Hedin and Miss Ethel Hertle, among the favorites of the women competitors, gave up when darkness settled over the course. Miss Hertle, whose home is in New York, held second place for a time. She trailed Vierkoetter after Young had quit, but in turn was passed before six p. m. by Michel.

Miss Charlotte Barrett, New Rochelle, N. Y., school teacher, was reported missing for a time and a search started for her. At 7 o'clock however, she stepped from a launch and walked to a hospital bed. She explained that the water was too cold for her. She had covered nearly 11 miles.

A 14-year-old lad from Long Beach, Cal., Arthur Compton, had covered two thirds of the course before he was forced to give up. At the time of his withdrawal he was in third place.

One thrill after another was packed into the marathon. Several of the natators came near drowning and were floundering and sinking as rescue boats drew up alongside them. Michael Hamburg, totally blind, struggled on for several miles behind the tinkling bell on his pilot boat. Leo J. Smith, of Herkimer, N. Y., although legless, had covered only a half mile when he saw Elmer J. Neubeck of Buffalo sinking. He dove after him and brought him to the surface. Smith was weakening in his rescue efforts when seven other swimmers went to assistance. All were disqualified.

REPRESENTATIVES OF PAPER HOUSES GUESTS OF CANTINE

About sixty men, representatives of paper jolbing houses, handling the Martin Cantine Company paper in various cities and states, were guests of the company at the office in Saugerties on Wednesday. The men arrived from New York City on one of the Saugerties and New York Line boats and after breakfasting at the Maxwell House made a tour of inspection of the factory and later the entire party went by auto to the Nonahaw Club, above the Ashokan reservoir, where dinner was served. Wednesday night the members of the party left for New York on the steamer Ida.

ASKED TO LOCATE WOMAN ON HUNTING TRIP IN CATSKILLS

The police and sheriff have been asked to help locate Mrs. Adolant Hardin who is on a hunting trip somewhere in the Catskills. A message was received by the police from Boston stating that a sister was dead and asking them to assist in locating Mrs. Hardin and deliver the message. Sheriff Rice notified Sergeant Cunningham and the Troopers located through the mountains will assist in locating her. Anyone knowing of her whereabouts should communicate with the authorities.

Accepts Position.

Miss Alice Pieper, class of 1927, Nonahaw Business School, Burgerville Building, has accepted a position as stenographer and clerical assistant with the A. R. Newcombe Oil Corporation, 633 Broadway, this city.

Proclamation By the Mayor

The Honorable Alfred E. Smith, Governor of the State of New York, having issued a proclamation addressed to the citizens of the State reciting the important events which happened at Kingston one hundred and fifty years ago, the request by the President and Regents of the University of the State for a suitable observance commemorating the founding of the Government of the State at Kingston, and their direction and that of the Legislature to the Commissioner of Education to arrange for and execute the same, requesting that Saturday, September 10th, and Sunday, September 11th, be days on which the Sesqui-Centennial of the political beginnings of this free Commonwealth be commemorated, that special public exercises be held in this city, the first Capital of the State, where these events happened, that all private homes and public buildings throughout the State be decorated for the occasion, that schools, churches, civil and patriotic organizations join in the celebration in that as a result of these observances, the people of this State should seek a better understanding of our splendid history, should develop a greater love for our institutions, should take a deeper pride in our accomplishments, should resolve to give more time and thought to the solution of our present problems, and should strive to make our State and Nation greater in wisdom, justice, tolerance, democracy and progress.

Now, therefore, I, Edgar J. Dempsey, Mayor of the City of Kingston, supplementing the proclamation of the Governor, and in full cooperation with the Committee heretofore appointed to arrange for the celebration of the Sesqui-Centennial of these great events, hereby request the citizens of Kingston heartily to unite in this celebration, beautifully to decorate their private homes and to devote Saturday, the 10th of September, to the observance of the ceremonies allotted to that day, and Sunday, the 11th of that month, to assemble in their several places of worship to render thanks to Almighty God for the innumerable blessings he has showered upon this community during the one hundred and fifty years that have gone since the Government of the State of New York here was organized.

Dated, September 1st, 1927.
EDGAR J. DEMPSEY, Mayor.

George M. Cohan's Daughter Elopes

Daughter of Noted Theatrical Producer Marries Leader of Hotel Orchestra—Groom Will Enter Insurance Business in Dayton.

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—Broadway learned with surprise today of a second elopement in the family of George M. Cohan, noted theatrical producer.

Mary M. Cohan, his 18 year old daughter, eloped from the family summer home at Spring Lake, N. J., yesterday and was married at Elkton, Md., to Neil Litt, 29, leader of a Spring Lake hotel orchestra.

The couple made the trip in an automobile of a friend and were married by the Rev. Irwin F. Wagner, pastor of the Elkton Presbyterian Church.

In 1921, Georgette Cohan, a daughter by the theatrical producer's first wife, eloped to Florida with J. William Southern, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, who died in 1925. A year later she married William H. Rowe, from whom she was divorced in Mexico.

Mary Cohan is the oldest of George Cohan's three children by his second wife. She graduated last spring from Mary Mount School, a Catholic institution at Tarrytown, N. Y. She is a musician and is said to inherit her father's love for the theatre.

Litt plays the banjo and appeared with orchestras in several New York night clubs. He said he will enter the insurance business with his father in Dayton, Ohio.

4,000 Volt Wire Falls to Street

With a flash resembling lightning, a wire said to be carrying 4,000 volts of electric current, dropped to the street this morning in front of the Eagle Hotel. The wire struck a car parked in front of the hotel and fortunately no pedestrians were passing at the time although several persons were seated on the Eagle Hotel porch.

There was a brilliant display of electricity for a time as the wire curled about the car and struck the ground. The repair crew of the electric light company was notified and made necessary repairs. While repairs were being made the electric lighting circuit in a portion of the uptown district adjoining was out. There was no damage to the car or other property.

McCray Leaves For Indianapolis

Former Governor of Indiana Released from Atlanta Prison on Wednesday Starts Home—May Go Before Grand Jury to Testify in Klan Investigation.

Indianapolis, Sept. 1 (AP).—The career of Warren T. McCray which spanned the distance from grocery clerk to the governorship of Indiana, and then led to a cell in the federal prison at Atlanta, entered a new phase today.

Released from prison yesterday after serving three years and four months of a ten year sentence for using the mails to defraud, the former Governor started for his home here and the wife he has not seen since entering Atlanta penitentiary.

Mrs. McCray and a few close friends planned to meet him. One of the first things the former executive wanted to do was to see his only grand child, now nearly three years old, who was born after McCray entered Atlanta. His future, he has said, remains to be worked out. "I am coming back," he declared May 1, 1924, when he began serving a ten year sentence. He avowed then he would vindicate himself and repay all his friends and associates who suffered losses in his own financial collapse.

There was a possibility, hinted but no authoritative affirmation, that he might be precipitated into the political affairs now occupying so much attention in Indiana. It was understood in some quarters that he might be called as a witness before the Marion county (Indiana) grand jury, now winding up its investigation into charges of political graft and irregularities.

Krom Is Given Another Chance

Was Disorderly on West O'Reilly Street Wednesday Evening and Was Arrested by John Kelder—Given a Suspended Sentence—Cole Arrested.

Isiah Krom of Stone Ridge was arrested on West O'Reilly street on Wednesday evening by John Kelder and turned over to the police on a charge of disorderly conduct. This morning Krom was represented in police court by Attorney Andrew J. Cook who explained the situation to Judge Shufeldt who sentenced Krom to thirty days in jail and suspended the serving of the sentence pending good behavior.

According to Attorney Cook he is representing Krom in another case, that of a separation action brought against Krom by his wife. He said Krom had been in to see him on Wednesday and he had told him to keep away from West O'Reilly street where Mrs. Krom was stopping at the home of Mr. Kelder, but Krom neglected to do so.

Mr. Cook said that negotiations were pending between Krom and his wife in an effort to amicably settle the matter and effect a reconciliation.

William Cole, 65 years old, was arrested Wednesday on a warrant obtained by Fannie Cohen of No. 19 Ann street charging Cole with disorderly conduct in using vile and indecent language on Ann street. The hearing was adjourned to Friday morning.

Fail to Sight English Plane

Ottawa, Sept. 1 (AP).—Hope that a gray monoplane sighted over St. Malo might have been the transatlantic flier, St. Raphael, was dissipated later when it was ascertained that the plane belonged to a Captain Sanders. Captain Sanders flew from Lake St. Joseph, Que., this forenoon in his plane marked "G-Cali" at an altitude of 7,000 feet. Residents of St. Malo, who were on the lookout for the St. Raphael, thought for a time that it was the English plane.

No word of the St. Raphael had been received here up to noon. A second check of all the wireless stations along the north Atlantic coast and the St. Lawrence was made without result.

Sleightsburgh Has Mail Service

Through the efforts of Postmaster Walter P. Crane the hamlet of Sleightsburgh now has rural mail service which was inaugurated today. In the past residents of Sleightsburgh had no mail delivery and received their mail at the downtown post office on West Strand or at the Port Ewen post office. The matter was taken up with the federal post office department at Washington some time ago and an inspector was sent here who went over the ground with Postmaster Crane and as a result of that inspection it was decided to afford rural mail service to Sleightsburgh which will consist of a daily delivery of mail.

Two Canadian Planes Start on Flight to London

Tully and Medcalf Begin Flight from London, Ont., to London, England—Wood and Schiller Begin Flight from Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, England—Both Planes Make Good Starts.

London, Ont., Sept. 1 (AP).—Captain Terry Tully and Lieutenant James Medcalf took off at 5:34 o'clock this morning in the monoplane Sir John Carling for their attempted flight from London, Ont., to London, England.

Perfect weather attended the take off. The machine made a beautiful start, leaving the ground about a half mile down the runway and mounting rapidly to an altitude of 1,500 feet, when it headed eastward. Tully is piloting the plane, with Medcalf as navigator.

$25,000 Prize Awaits Them.

Originally planned as a nonstop flight, today's venture will be broken at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, where additional fuel will be taken aboard.

A $25,000 prize, offered by the backers of the flight, awaits Tully and Medcalf if they reach the English metropolises.

The Stinson-Detrolter is equipped with a Wright whirlwind motor and is almost identical in construction to the Pride of Detroit, the world cruising monoplane which arrived yesterday in Constantinople.

Thousands See Plane Start.

Warned by a pre-arranged signal of three flash bombs and continued blowing of factory whistles, that the fliers would take off at dawn, thousands of London citizens were at the field to speed the airmen on their attempted 3,700 mile flight.

Sighted Twice.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 1 (AP).—The monoplane Sir John Carling, on the London to London flight, was reported passing east near this city at 9:30 a. m. eastern daylight time.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP).—A plane believed to be the Sir John Carling passed over Malone at 9:55 standard time.

Royal Windsor Starts.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 1 (AP).—The monoplane Royal Windsor, bearing Phil Wood and C. A. (Duke) Schiller, hopped off from Walkerville field at 9:18 a. m. eastern standard time today, on a non-stop flight with Windsor, England, as its objective.

A wreath bearing the words "Nugesser-Cull" was placed in the plane by the fliers. They plan to drop it into the ocean as a memorial to the French fliers who attempted a westward flight across the Atlantic.

"Don't forget me—Helen," was written on the plane with chalk by Mrs. Wood shortly before her husband, who will serve as navigator, clambered to his place. Miss Ada Greer, of Sault Ste Marie, Ont., Schiller's fiancée, presented the fliers with a toy teddy bear as a flight mascot.

Propeller Spun by Mulligan.

The propeller of the plane, which bears the number CN-100, was spun by Ed Mulligan, Wright motor expert who performed the same service for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and the party of Commander Richard E. Byrd when they hopped off on their transatlantic flights.

Several thousand persons who lined the field, cheered as the plane made a beautiful take off and attaining its height, straightened out toward the east.

Want $10,000 For Levine's Pilot

London, Sept. 1 (AP).—A temporary obstacle to Charles A. Levine's transatlantic flight appeared today when the Imperial Airways announced that they had a contract with Captain W. G. Hinchcliffe, whom Levine had selected to pilot the airplane Columbia, and would require $10,000 from Levine for releasing Hinchcliffe.

Levine, it is understood, thought this sum excessive, but offered to underwrite $10,000 insurance policy on Hinchcliffe. The Imperial Airways explained that it would cost that amount to train another pilot to replace Hinchcliffe in experience and value.

Round the World Flight Delayed

Constantinople, Sept. 1 (AP).—Departure of the American round-the-world monoplane Pride of Detroit has been postponed until tomorrow morning. The fliers, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, announced that they would be unable to get away today for Aleppo, Syria, and Bagdad, Iraq, as the necessary official permission to proceed over Turkish territory had not arrived from Ankara.

Secures Position.

Miss Minnie Kiraly, an experienced graduate of Spencer's Business School, has secured a permanent position as bookkeeper, typist and business clerk with the Utter Foundry Corporation, 20 St. James street, this city.

Youth Drowned For Insurance

Police Believe That Two Young Companions Drowned 22 Year Old Youth So That His Business Associate Could Collect $140,000 in Life Insurance.

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—The drowning of a 22-year-old youth by two young companions to permit his older business associate to collect $140,000 in life insurance was revealed, police say, in confessions held by Brooklyn police today.

The confessions, secured from Harry Greenberg, 17, and Irving Rubinzahl, 22, were said by police to describe how Benjamin Goldstein, salesman associate of Joseph Lefkowitz, 42, east side hosiery dealer, was shoved from a rowboat off Coney Island last Friday and left to drown. Authorities said Rubinzahl's confession charged Lefkowitz, the beneficiary in the insurance policy, with arranging the killing.

Rubinzahl, Greenberg and Lefkowitz were arrested last night on charges of homicide after a 24-hour investigation. Inaugurated when Samuel Goldstein, father of the dead boy, told police he suspected foul play after the body was found in Gravesend Bay.

The boy's family, authorities said, reported the boy had been under a "spell" of Lefkowitz for several years.

Lefkowitz, police said, admitted being the beneficiary of two double indemnity insurance policies aggregating $70,000 on the boy's life, but denied any knowledge of how the youth met his death.

Rubinzahl, however, is alleged to have told police he received $250 of a reported price of $1,000 from Lefkowitz for his part in the plot. District Attorney Dodd asserted Greenberg was to share in the $1,000 but had received only a suit of clothes from Lefkowitz.

Extend Dutchess Fair to Saturday

The Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck will be continued until Saturday. The event was scheduled to close Friday but owing to the heavy rains on Monday and today it was decided by the fair officials to keep the event open one day more in order to give all a chance to view the exhibits and attractions which were planned with much care.

The feature attraction at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon will be a double-header baseball bill. The Kingston All-Stars will meet the Beekwith Cleaners of Poughkeepsie in the curtain raiser and the New York State Troopers' team will clash with the Poughkeepsie police baseball nine in the second game. No doubt the dual bill will produce plenty of excitement and many are expected to gather for the feature.

Another grand stand attraction scheduled to be on the program Saturday afternoon will be a number of horse races. Every year there are a goodly number of fast horses entered in the races at the Dutchess County Fair and this year will no doubt be an outstanding one in so far as the races are concerned, for a large number of entries have been booked.

There were large crowds at the fair Tuesday and Wednesday, many people from Kingston attending both days.

Governor Smith Names Canfield

Governor Smith has appointed former Mayor Canfield to represent the State at the twentieth annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Convention to be held at Baltimore, September 9 to 15. The problems of waterways and their development throughout the states bordering upon the Atlantic will be discussed by prominent speakers including the governors of several states. A trip through the New Chesapeake and Delaware sea level waterways will be made. Mr. Canfield has taken an active part in the New York State Waterways' Association and has been a member of the executive committee for many years.

May Have Found Brazilian Flier

Para, Brazil, Sept. 1 (AP).—An unconfirmed report has been received here that Paul Redfern fell at Alemquer, Brazil.

Alemquer lies on the Amazon river in the state of Para, sixty miles west-southwest of Montalegre.

Weiner Hose Clambake.

A picnic will be held by Weiner Hose Company, No. 6, at Maple Hill Inn, Rosendale road, Sunday, September 4, from 11 a. m. until 11 p. m. Everybody is invited to attend and a most enjoyable time is promised. Dancing will be held in the afternoon and evening. The hose company recently sponsored a clambake at the same inn and it was a most successful event.

U. S. Commercial Shipwreck Turns Into Social Event

Private Owners Take Over Mail Service—Air Express Service Is Inaugurated—Airmen Believe U. S. Commercial Aviation Is Now in the Forefront of the World.

New York, Sept. 1 (AP).—Commercial aviation in America advanced two great strides today, strides which many airmen believed placed it in the forefront of the world.

For today marked the end of government operation of the air mail and also the inauguration of a country-wide system of air express, the express shipments and the main to be carried in the same planes of four, privately owned airplane companies.

Beginning today urgent express packages may be sent from coast to coast in 32 hours and from Chicago to Dallas in less than 12. Besides the main trunk air line from New York to San Francisco there will be a daily plane from Boston through New York to Chicago and so to Dallas and a return plane over the same route, and a connecting line at Salt Lake plying between that city and Los Angeles, making connections with planes of the trunk line.

The air express will be carried in the same planes which carry the mail under contracts between the government and the Colonial Air Transport, the National Air Transport, the Boeing Air Transport and the Western Air Express.

Because the headquarters of the American Railway Express Company is in New York, the principal ceremony inauguration was scheduled for Hadley Field, where the starting time of the first express plane was 1:15 p. m., E. D. T.

This was done in part to permit the presence at the ceremonies, without too great loss of time from his other duties, of Robert E. M. Cowie, president of the Express Company, who dreamed a dream of air express many years ago and who was anxious to see his dream come true today.

In connection with today's events officials of both the transport companies and the Express Company expressed the opinion that the twin happenings of the day put America well ahead of other countries in commercial aviation.

European countries, it was acknowledged, had far greater systems of air passenger lines than this country, although having nothing like the country-wide air express service inaugurated here today, but those lines were operated largely by government subsidy.

Want Boys to Join Legion Troop

Invitation Issued to All Boys From 12 to 18 Years of Age to Meet at Legion Building Friday Evening at 7:30—Legion Will Finance Troop.

Scout Master Edward Luedtke issues an invitation to all boys from 12 to 18 years of age, not belonging to any Boy Scout organization, to meet at the American Legion Memorial Building 7:30 Friday evening. At the meeting plans will be discussed to further the organization of the Legion Boy Scout troop now being formed.

The troop is not yet completely organized and Mr. Luedtke says there are still plenty of vacancies for the young boys who wish to become members of the outfit.

There will be no cost to the boys joining the Legion troop. The American Legion will finance the whole affair and provide uniforms and other necessities from the Legion treasury.

The troop when fully organized will enjoy special privileges of the Legion building and arrangements will be made for a "Boy Scouts" night" occasionally when the members of the troop will be assured of a jolly time.

The invitation extended to the boys to meet Friday night includes the boys' parents should they desire to accompany their sons and learn more minute details in connection with this work.

Many Decorate For Celebration

Many of the business places in Kingston have already decorated their stores and shops for the sesqui-centennial celebration which will be held here on September 10. Many of the decorations are of a very artistic nature and it is anticipated that the city will display a holiday appearance when all decorations are in place.

Last Dance of Season.

The last dance of the season will be held at Kingston Point Casino Labor Day night. A prize fox trot will be held and the winning couple will be awarded a cup. Dancing will commence at 8 and end at 11. Music by Tony Turk and his orchestra.

Fire Directors to Meet.

The directors of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet with the local committee on September 10, at 8 o'clock, at the Central fire station.

Shipwreck Turns Into Social Event

270 Tourists from Coastwise Canadian Steamer Prepare to Accept Hospitality of Alaskans While Awaiting Arrival of Relief Ship.

Wrangell, Alaska, Sept. 1 (AP).—The aftermath of a shipwreck was turned into a picnic today as 270 tourists from the coastwise Canadian steamer Princess Charlotte, rescued when the vessel struck a reef near here Tuesday night, plunged into a program of social events here while awaiting the arrival of a relief ship to take them to Vancouver.

The beleaguered excursionists, who included many wealthy residents of the United States and Canada, were landed in Wrangell late yesterday and immediately were afforded the hospitality for which the Alaskans have become famed.

Aboard private tugs and government vessels which sped through the night in answer to S. O. S. calls from the crippled Princess Charlotte, the tourists invaded Wrangell apparently unconcerned over the prospect of spending two days or more as guests of the Alaskans.

The Princess Charlotte, operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, was returning to Vancouver, B. C., from Skagway, Alaska, when she piled up on little known Viehnafski Reef. With a gaping hole in her outer plates, the vessel was held fast on the rocks until high tide, when she was refloated and unloaded her passengers, for safety sake, on an isolated and windswept beach. After spending the night on the island shore, the passengers were taken by cannery tugs and the government cutter explorer, to Wrangell.

COURT TO DECIDE ON ALIMONY FOR MRS. WILSON

Salinas, Cal., Sept. 1 (AP).—Lawyers today continued the property settlement fight between Harry Leon Wilson, novelist, and Mrs. Helen Cooke Wilson, who yesterday obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from the author on charges of desertion and failure to provide.

The court ordered the briefs submitted for study before deciding on Mrs. Wilson's contention that her husband had concealed part of his wealth when they made a settlement some time ago by which she received $350 monthly alimony and certain securities. In her suit she demanded $5,000 monthly alimony, and a larger share in stocks, bonds, real estate holdings and royalty earnings. She declared Wilson's income was $100,000 a year.

Mrs. Wilson's attorney introduced a letter indicating Wilson's attitude toward the divorce, although the plaintiff did not state its purpose. Wilson wrote the letter at Portland, Ore., to his sister-in-law, Miss Katherine Cooke, who read it from the witness stand.

"I am, of course, sorry for the children," said the letter. "Too bad either of them ever came into the world. I am sorry for that. But the divorce is inevitable—unavoidable—to end a relationship that has become intolerable to me, children or no children."

CHICAGO MOVIE STRIKE

NO NEARER A SETTLEMENT

Chicago, Sept. 1 (AP).—Chicago's silver screens remained behind drawn curtains today as the city moved into the fourth day of a movieless week.

The lockout of union movie operators, affecting all the 25,000 employees of the Chicago Exhibitors' Association, was no nearer a settlement, both sides agreed.

The exhibitors issued this statement: "We have enough money and resources in our treasury to carry on the fight indefinitely until the unions are ready to deal with the exhibitors in a business-like manner. We will not permit labor leaders to tell us how to serve the Chicago public or what to do with our tremendous investments in Chicago."

Thomas Malory, business agent for the operators, said: "Our men are not worrying over not working. They will draw the pay lost during the lockout or won't go back to their jobs until they are paid."

Both sides yesterday rejected an offer from a representative of the United States department of labor to arbitrate.

D. A. R. CHAPTER HOUSE

OPEN TO VISITORS SEPT. 10.

The members of Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will open their Chapter House at the junction of Crown and Green streets on Saturday, September 10, where they will be very glad to receive all of the visitors to Kingston and to serve to them light refreshments. Mrs. Virgil B. Van Wageningen, who is the Regent of the Chapter, is the only person who has been requested or authorized to represent it in the Sesqui-Centennial celebration ceremonies. She is a member of the committee on the laying of the cornerstone of the Senate House Museum, and the striking of the medal commemorative of the hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the inauguration of the State Government at Kingston.

Beauty Plans To Pilot Plane

Ruth Elder, Beauty Prize Winner of Alabama, Hopes To Be First Woman to Fly a Plane Across The Atlantic.

Lakeland, Fla., Sept. 1 (AP).—There is "naturally a certain pleasure" in winning beauty contests, but Ruth Elder of Alabama, who hopes to be the first woman to fly a plane across the Atlantic, gets her greatest thrill in soaring high above the clouds.

Mrs. Liuba Phillips, a Russian pilot of 16 years' experience, is also seeking to be the first woman to cross the Atlantic in an airplane. She plans to pilot a Wright-motored Fokker monoplane from New York to an undetermined point in Europe.

Miss Elder, who now is making preparations for the proposed flight from New York to Paris, did her first flying in Panama two years ago and since has been studying aviation. George Haldeman, Lakeland resident, who was an instructor in aviation during the World War, is to be her navigator.

"I have been in rigid training the past six months under Ed Cornell, of Winter Haven, and Mr. Haldeman, and I feel competent to pilot an airplane across the ocean," Miss Elder said. "I want to be the first girl to cross the Atlantic in a plane. Mr. Haldeman, who is to accompany me, is one of the best aviators in the country."

Last summer, Haldeman, with Cornell, made a cross-country flight from Lakeland to the Pacific coast and back again, covering 37 states and flying 16,449 miles.

During the six months Miss Elder has been training here, she has thrilled thousands of persons with stunt flying. She participated in two beauty contests and won both. Thomas H. McArdle, one of the backers with Wheeling, Va., citizens, of the proposed flight, said the expedition was conceived some time ago. At that time the order was placed for a Stinson monoplane, equipped with a Wright whirlwind motor.

As a preliminary to her trans-Atlantic flight, Miss Elder flew to Detroit to test the plane ordered. It will be christened "Miss Wheeling" and will carry her back to Lakeland, thence to Wheeling and from there to New York. The trans-Atlantic flight is planned for this month.

Old Salt Finds Lump of Ambergris Worth $12,500

Cape May, N. J.—A 28-pound lump of ambergris—nugget gold of the sea—was found about 15 miles off shore here by Jeremiah Pratt, seventy-four-year-old seaman of the fishing schooner Mary Ann of Gloucester, Mass. The old seaman said he had been offered $448 a pound, or about $12,500 for the foul smelling mass by a New York perfumer, and intended to use the money to retire and buy a chicken farm.

Robinson of Arkansas Senate's Speed King

Senator Joseph Taylor Robinson of Arkansas believes in doing everything in a hurry. He got into Congress at the age of 30, and has been making things hum ever since. He'll be heard from when the Democrats meet to pick a standard-bearer next year.

(International Illustrated News)

This is another in the series of presidential possibilities written by Fred L. Lindelton, Washington correspondent of the International Illustrated News. In these articles Mr. Lindelton deals with personalities rather than politics.

BY FRED L. LINDELTON
International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

Another "Arkansas Traveler" who will undoubtedly be heard from at the Democratic presidential convention next year is Senator Joseph Taylor Robinson. And if so, he'll be the second Robinson to figure in the 1928 political news, because Senator Arthur R. Robinson of Indiana will probably throw his hat into the ring, too—only Arthur will pitch it into the G. O. P. ring.

Having established the separate identities of the two Robinsons, let's get back to Joseph Taylor of Arkansas. He is a live wire in the full sense of the word. He's a human dynamo. He's as fast as chain lightning. He never goes about anything in a leisurely way.

He raced through school, took a running jump into the law, and hopped nimbly into the Arkansas Legislature at the rather politically immature age of 23. He pushed himself into Congress when he was 30, and was in the Senate a few years later.

Joseph Taylor Robinson surely is the speed boy of politics. Back in 1912, in the short span of 43 days, he was a Congressman, governor of Arkansas and United States Senator in succession. If this isn't a world's record, then nothing is!

Robinson is one of the best orators that ever toured the stump. He knows the political game from every angle. His Senatorial career has been crowded with important assignments.

He is 55 years old and has just as much "pep" and fight as he had as a 23-year-old State legislator.

U. S. MARKET SERVICE COVERS GREAT AREA

Million Dollar Bureau Gives Free Aid to Farmers

Washington.—Every farmer in the United States has access to a million-dollar information bureau.

It is Uncle Sam's market news service operated by congressional appropriation. Daily, throughout the country, it correlates the radio, ocean cables and miles of telephone and telegraph wires in distributing quotations.

Allied with the titanic system, co-operative "listening posts," clearing houses of information, are supervised by the bureau of agriculture economics. The newest such institution has been established in San Francisco, at request of the California Vineyardist association. It will gather data on prices, supply and distribution of grapes.

Lists Number of Carloads.

The information will show the number of carloads of each variety and grade sold at different prices. Railroads will supply figures on the number of cars of each variety of grapes moved to the market. Eastern points will send supplemental reports every 25 hours on shipments received and distributed.

Similar plans for the citrus industry were discussed at a conference here between Secretary of Agriculture Jardine and Florida representatives. Georgia peach growers, and producers of other material crops in all parts of the United States may likewise avail themselves of governmental co-operation during the market season.

"These clearing houses for market information," economists say, "insure an even distribution of products and an even tenor in prices. By knowing where his produce is needed, the shipper is not faced with the probability of a flooded market one day and a skimmed one the next. Steady flow to the market solves the problem of individual overproduction and works to a better average price for each grower."

"Through the market news service any part of the country may know exactly how many barrels, bushels or pounds of farm products are rolling to market every hour in the day and the prices offered at all terminal points."

The Network of Wires.

"Compilation of such vast knowledge is made possible through uniform operation of 7,351 miles of government-leased telegraph wires, working 12 hours a day. More than 2,000 market reporters supply detailed information from all principal centers in the United States and abroad. Cabled information is obtained from the International Institute at Rome, to which 90 countries subscribe."

"By telephone at 38 relay points and through more than 100 radio stations every individual or institution in the land interested in any manner of produce market reports has constant access to the most complete quotations in the world."

Typhoid Germ Lives Years, Science Learns

San Francisco.—Disease-causing bacteria have many devices to perpetuate their kind in an adverse world. Bacteriologists of the Hooper foundation for medical research, University of California, have shown that tetanus spores may resist the temperature of boiling water for 90 minutes, botulism in vegetable juices for 5½ hours and those of a closely related but harmless species for 8½ hours. Other workers have proved that typhoid and other organisms may remain alive for years at refrigerator or lower temperatures.

This happy provision of nature—happy, that is, for the bacteria—constitutes a factor of great danger for man and animals which it is the function of scientific research to obviate, says Dr. George E. Coleman of the Hooper foundation. "The brilliant success," he states, "that has been attained already, in which the experimental use of mice and guinea pigs has played a large part, is constantly being proclaimed by statistical evidence of fewer food poisonings and typhoid fever outbreaks, as well as by increased protection from many of our other microscopic foes."

Spruce Lumber, Cut for War, to Be Used in Peace

Port Angeles, Wash.—Millions of feet of spruce lumber logged and sawed by government forces during the latter days of the World war are now in demand for building the airplanes of peace, according to numerous inquiries received here the last two weeks. The spruce lumber stored in the war basis sheds to season is in excellent condition for airplane needs while most of the logs lying in the assembling yards are sound as the day they were felled.

This Greatest ESSEX Super-Six

Long foreshadowed by famous ESSEX achievements

The ideal transportation attained in this Greatest Essex Super-Six was long foreshadowed in the series of individual supremacies by which Essex leadership towered mountain high above the field.

World standards set by Essex itself must be surpassed to achieve it. Standards of comfort and performance, standards of riding ease and economy, and the outstanding standard of value.

Here is all that Essex gave in the past plus advancements that are new and unique in motordom. Here is 50 miles an hour all day long, far greater speed if you want it, and a riding ease that is actually like flying.

Today's Essex, like Hudson, has an exclusive high-compression, anti-knock motor that, using ordinary gasoline, turns waste heat to power. These motors are the most powerful and efficient in the world per cubic inch of piston displacement, within our knowledge.

No matter how high your expectations, they will be brilliantly met, and more, when you ride in the New Essex Super-Six.

Contingent Fee Is Under Fire

31 Annual Convention of American Bar Association—Declared to Be One of the Causes of Crowded Court Calendars.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP).—The contingent fee, declared to be one of the causes of congested court calendars, was under fire at the American Bar Association convention today.

The executive committee had before it for action a resolution introduced by Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney for the Southern district of New York, which asked for revision of existing law on the subject.

The judicial section passed a resolution suggesting the American Bar Association appoint delegates to suggest to the United States Chamber of Commerce, the American Federation of Labor and other nationally known bodies that they also appoint delegates to meet in a convention to be called for the purpose of considering a plan to prevent present delays of the law in both civil and criminal cases.

In arguments for the adoption of the resolution delays were scored as prejudicial to justice and the Sacco-Vanzetti case was referred to. It was argued that when an indictment is returned, trial should follow as quickly as possible and that conviction should be followed by immediate sentences or other disposal to clear court calendars and achieve swifter justice.

The resolution was referred to the committee on judicial reform by the executive committee with instructions to report on it as quickly as possible.

Prominent "Movie" Star in All-White Costume

Natalie Kingston, featured player in the motion picture, "Framed," has selected an interesting and picturesque costume of all-white that is at the height of the mode. It is designed along unusual lines and has an extremely full and uneven skirt, a snug waist with a scarf effect at the neck and a silver flower at one shoulder. Contrary to many of the formal gowns, it possesses sleeves and they are both long and full.

Handkerchief Trimming Adds to the Plain Frock

Handkerchief dresses are with us again, though in slightly different form.

The new way is to use the handkerchiefs for trimming a perfectly plain frock, preferably a slim dress of dull black satin, charmeuse or crepe de chine. Three handkerchiefs of figured silk in very bright colors—one very large and two smaller handkerchiefs—are used.

The large handkerchief is fixed cornerwise down the right side of the dress, from back to front—one point is fixed across the front of the frock on the left hip, and the other corresponding point on the same hip at the back. The remaining points of the handkerchief go to the shoulder and the hem of the dress. Usually a dress with long tight-fitting sleeves is chosen, and the two small handkerchiefs fall from these sleeves, one side of each handkerchief being stitched down each sleeve from elbow to wrist.

Paris Rumor That Yokes Will Be Fall Fashion

There is a rumor in Paris that yokes are to be an important innovation on many coats and daytime dresses this fall.

The evidence to bear out the report is slight, but the hectic looking people who emerge from the dressmaking workshops with their mouths full of pins and faces full of importance agree that there may be something to the report.

At Worth's one of the newest coats has a yoke design accentuated by solid cross stitch of several tones. There is a deep band of the same cross stitch at the bottom of the coat.

New Garter Invented for Rolled Stockings

A new garter has been patented which is especially designed for rolled stockings. It has a double row of raised sections that interlock when the garter is adjusted and prevent slipping.

To wear them the garter is put on first and the top of the stocking is brought up over the first section of the garter. The remaining exposed part of the garter is then turned over the stocking and the whole is folded over once more. Presto! The stocking is securely in place and will remain so until removed by the wearer.

New Frock Trimming

For cloth frocks nailheads are a popular trimming, replacing, in a way, beaded or silk embroidery. Some of the imported two-piece models have the entire bodice portions studded with either silver or gilt nailheads placed in floral or geometrical designs. Felt hats with brims outlined in nailheads or with crowns embellished with nailheads are to be shown later on.

For Busy Women

The most popular costume for the busy woman is the trim two-piece suit. A dainty blouse makes it suitable for almost any occasion.

Tans and grays are very well liked this season, with the always popular navy also much in evidence.

Rubber Scarfs for Beach

Scarfs of rubber which match the bathing cap and the rubber flower without which no mermaid's costume is complete this season, are seen at French resorts. The scarfs are designed with flowers or have amusing designs painted on them.

Area of Great Basins

The Hudson Bay basin, that is the area draining into the Hudson bay, contains 1,496,000 square miles. The Arctic basin has an area of 1,290,000 square miles; the Atlantic basin, 554,000 square miles, and the Pacific basin, 387,300 square miles.

Tragedy of Age

The tragedy of age is the increasing number of things that won't afford a kick.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Original Model Of Mary Powell

Is on Display in Show Windows of Maben and Walker—Nautical Display
Attracts Large Crowd.

In the show windows of the Maben & Walker drug store at 475 Broadway is shown an original model of the famous steamer Mary Powell as she was when she went in commission in 1861 and before she was remodeled. The model was made by the late Guernsey B. Betts with a jack-knife, and paper and a great deal of patience. Mr. Betts was pilot on the Mary Powell for twenty-five years in succession and during that time while the boat was running from the Rondout creek to Desbrosses street, New York city, making the round trip each day there never was an accident.

The model of the steamer Mary Powell is enclosed in a glass case in the window which permits a detailed examination of the model. Every detail, according to those who knew the old vessel before she was remodeled, is shown. In executing the model Mr. Betts, who was very familiar with the boat, apparently gave great attention to the details. Inside the cabin there is carpet on the floor and every detail, including the landing planks, life-boats, etc., is shown.

During her travels on the Hudson river the Mary Powell was one of the fastest boats on the river and for years held the time of the fastest crack pleasure yachts of the early 1860's which endeavored to take the title of "Queen of the Hudson" from the Mary Powell by beating her record.

A large photograph is also shown in the Maben & Walker window showing the Mary Powell as she was after being remodeled and lengthened and as she was when she went out of service.

To complete the nautical display in the window there is also shown a model of a forge which was made at sea by A. G. Hawthorne, R. N. R. T. First Engineer on M. H. T. "Ida Adams". This model forge was made by Mr. Hawthorne from pieces of wreckage caused by submarines during the war from August 1914 to November 1915, while he was aboard the English vessel. The model is in brass and contains a fully equipped shop including a forge, anvil, tools, etc. The model was loaned by Mr. Pennington of the Pennington studio.

CHURCH AT ULSTER PARK CLOSED FOR REPAIRS.

There will be no services in the Ulster Park Reformed Church until further notice as the church is being thoroughly remodeled and redecorated. While the Ulster Park Church is closed the Rev. Mr. Gulick, pastor, will hold services every Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Union Center chapel, beginning next Sunday, and there will be the usual Sunday afternoon services every Sunday at 2:30 o'clock in the St. Remy Church. The interior of the Ulster Park Church is to be repaired and placed in condition by the installation of new metal walls after which the building will be redecorated.

RESUME SERVICES FRIDAY AT TEMPLE EMANUEL

Services will be resumed at Temple Emanuel on Friday, September 2, at 7:30 p. m. Rabbi Morris Rose will have as his topic, "Bergson, the philosopher of liberal Judaism." Dr. Rose will develop the thought that the fundamental principles of Reform Judaism are based upon such a conception of Judaism which make for a living organism.

Immediately following the services there will be a meeting of the congregation for the election of trustees and officers for the ensuing year.

Missionary Meeting.
The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will hold a regular business meeting at the home of Mrs. W. D. Pettinger, 23 Furnace street, Friday at 2:30 p. m.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)
London.—The really happy man never—or seldom—laughs, in the opinion of Prof. Aveling, of the University of London, teacher of psychology. Though the really happy man may smile, the professor reasons, he does not need to laugh, for laughter, like weeping, is a relief of mental tension and the happy are not over strung.

New York.—Marilyn Miller is back from France without a divorce and with a coat of tan. The latter, she explains, was acquired painlessly by beach lounging in pajamas.

Greenwich, Conn.—Now that the fair Helen has repulsed the English, graceful Glenna is tuning up to do likewise to the French. Miss Collett has just done a 73. Male dufers' despair should be tempered by realization that Miss Thion Simone De La Chaume is on the way to shoot at the American women's golf crown.

London.—Many girl babies "born in the last fortnight have been named Betty, not after Princess Betty but after Betty Nuthall, who is being hailed as the future queen of tennis when the fair Helen slips.

Brownsville, Tex.—General Alvaro Obregon, who has been paying a visit from across the border, likes American flappers. "My one regret," he said, "is that we do not have flappers in my country. They personify all the better things of young womanhood."

London.—Dean Inge expects that the United States will have a population of 230,000,000 in the year 2,000 and that it and a federation of Latin-American republics will be the greatest world powers, with Europe relatively unimportant.

Chicago.—The telephone company proposes to resume the practice of telling anybody the time at a cost of five cents.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Sept. 1.—Miss Dorothy Van Gaasbeck, who has spent a few days with her aunt, Miss Mildred Short, on Broadway, has returned to her home in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Reed and son, Theodore, Jr., are guests of Mr. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, on Stout avenue.

Several from this place attended the Dutchess county fair at Rhinebeck today.

Miss Augusta Vanderveer, who has been the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Vanderveer, on Broadway, has returned to her home in Kingston.

School District No. 1 will open Tuesday, September 6, for the fall term with Miss Louise Polhemus as teacher. During the summer months the board of trustees have been active for the interest of the district. The school house has been painted and electric lights have been installed, making No. 1 one of the best equipped rural schools in this locality.

Esopus Council, No. 42, Sons and daughters of Liberty, will meet Wednesday evening, September 7, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Barbara Vanderveer of Kingston is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Vanderveer, on Broadway.

Miss Alice Niese and Mrs. Theresa Slater will entertain the Dorcas Society at their home on Broadway Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Short of Highland, Miss Ida Stokes of New Paltz, and Mrs. Elizabeth Decker of Brewster, N. Y., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Britt on Salem street.

LYONSVILLE.

Lyonsville, Sept. 1.—The Breene family of New York city are spending their vacation at their cottage in this place.

Mrs. Carrie Van Steenberg has returned to her home at Kingston after spending the past two weeks with her niece, Mrs. Fred D. Oakley. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Beatty called on Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Davis 6n Monday evening.

Kenneth Oakley has a new Star coach. Representatives of the electric lighting company are canvassing through this place and Krumville for the purpose of installing electric lights.

Marie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Trowbridge, has not been very well. Dr. Bush was the attending physician. Mrs. Trowbridge and little daughter are spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orr E. Christiansa.

John Krum and family of New Britain, Conn., spent a week recently at the old homestead.

Several from this place were to Kingston the past week to see the picture "Ben-Hur."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Terwilliger and daughter, Miss Martha, and niece, Miss Mary Ella Kanane, of Clintonville, and Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Barley of Stone Ridge spent the past Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oakley.

The September meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. Peter L. Davis.

Mrs. S. D. Alexander is recovering from a recent fall.

Three Games for Warringtons.

THE MUD TURTLES

Old Billy Bullfrog always has a lot of fun with the mud turtles, but the other day when he gave a swimming party he had more fun than ever before.

They came, bringing with them their chairs of mud—and some of the very grand ones were carried on sofas made of mud.

You know the mud turtles are very lazy, and they enjoy sleeping about as much as anything.

Still, none of them would miss one of Billy Bullfrog's swimming parties—so they all came, even if some were napping when they arrived.

Just then the mud turtles felt their mud chairs being pulled from under them—and the mud turtles who were lying on sofas felt themselves suddenly without anything to lie on—and they all had to swim around for a change.

They wondered and wondered what could have taken away their resting places, when they heard a chorus of bullfrogs say:

"Croak, croak, d-r-r-r-u-m, get up and swim. It's not polite to sleep at a party."

Then the mud turtles blinked and looked about them, and there they saw on the lily pads in the stream, the bullfrogs.

"We've invented a game for the swimming party, as, of course, we're all a bit tired of races."

The mud turtles sighed and looked at their mud sofas and chairs disappearing in the stream, and smiled as only mud turtles can smile!

But the bullfrogs saw their smiles, and croaked and laughed and gurgled some more.

"But we're going to have something more exciting than swimming races. We're going to sit on our lily pads, and you're to swim under us and knock us off into the stream, and then, just as we find you are nice and comfortable, we'll knock you off."

But after they had played the new game for a little while the mud turtles would fall off their mud sofas and get on the lily pads instead.

And they didn't bother to chase the bullfrogs at all.

Old Billy Bullfrog had thought that would happen, and they had all wondered why he hadn't shown up before.

When, all of a sudden, what should the mud turtles see but a big thing that looked like a fat whale swimming around, pulling at their feet.

Then how they did swim and scamper, and the bullfrogs laughed and laughed.

Pretty soon the mud turtles noticed that the whale didn't chase any of the bullfrogs and that the bullfrogs weren't hurrying.

"It's another trick," one of them said.

Then Old Billy Bullfrog, who was dressed up as the whale with a cloak of gray bark and weeds, laughed and said:

"Well, there's no keeping you awake—so we'll sing lullabies," and the noise from the stream nearby the other night really meant that the bullfrogs were croaking what they called lullabies and sleepy songs.

RIDDLES

What three letters make a man of a boy? A. G. E.

What can be light and dark at the same time? A cake.

What is it that we never borrow yet often return? Thanks.

What are the hottest letters in the alphabet? K N (cayenne).

Speak only two letters and thus name the destiny of all earthly things. D. K.

Why is it right for B to come before C? Because we must B before we can C.

Shut like a barn door, opens like a trap, think all night but you can't guess that? Scissors.

Why is the letter R indispensable to friendship? Because without it your friends would be friends.

What is the longest word in the English language? Smiles, there is a mile between the first and last letter.

If the alphabet were all invited out to supper, in what order would they come? They would all get there down to S, and the rest would come after T.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Friday, September 2.

A Russian village, replete with Savie faces and customs, quaint old domes housing a people as old and as strange as the icy winds that sweep the strange places, giving birth to lyrics and melodies as weird and unfathomable as the people themselves—this will be the setting for the program by the "Musical Miniatures" which will be radiated by WEAF and the Red Network on Friday night. Colin O'Moore, well known radio and concert tenor, will be the guest artist of the Philco Hour which is a regular feature of WJZ and the Blue Network. These same stations will also broadcast the Royal Hour of songs and music by the Royal Orchestra, Heien Clark, contralto, and Virgil Holt, soprano. Other first class highlights will be the Atlantic Ladies Trio through WABC, the Denver Municipal Band through KOA and the Ivanhoe Band through WDAF. "As a Man Soweth" is the play to be presented by the studio players of WGY for a eastern highlight within reach of all.

Wave lengths in meters on left of stations. Time, kilocycles on the right. Time save Eastern Daylight Saving and Eastern Standard. Black type indicates best features.

CLINTONDALE

Clinton, N. Y., Sept. 1.—The M. E. Sunday School enjoyed an outing at Orange Lake last Wednesday.

The M. E. congregation is to have another rare treat the coming Sunday when John Von Aspee, whose voice has been heard repeatedly from broadcasting stations WJZ, WNYC, WGBS, WEBJ, WPCB, WGL and WAAT, will sing. The hour is 7:30 p. m.

All who heard Mr. Ashworth's solo which he rendered at the evening service last Sunday were charmed and inspired by his beautiful voice.

The monthly social and business meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the church parlors on Friday night of this week.

Through these items the pastor wishes to thank the Rev. Clemmie Ellis White and her friends for their able carrying on the interests of the church in the absence of the pastor.

Pets Make Big Industry

More than 3,500 miles of brass wire are used annually by one company in the manufacture of bird cages. This highly specialized industry of providing homes for canaries and parakeets and other feathered folk amounts to more than $20,000,000 a year.

League Farmers Back Up Ass'n

Action of Directors of Dairymen's League in Declining to Join the Advisory Board Received Unanimous Endorsement of Members. Unanimous endorsement of the recent stand taken by the directors of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., on August 24 in declining to become a part of the proposed Advisory Board recommended by the Ultra dairymen's meeting on June 27, was voted by 1,000 League farmers and their wives at a tea county banquet and meeting held in Syracuse on August 27.

This action followed the principal address of the meeting made by G. W. Slocum, president of the League, who discussed the reasons for the Association's present stand on the question of joining the Advisory Board.

In commenting on the stand of the League in declining to join the Advisory Board, Mr. Slocum said that the findings of the Producers Program Committee on United Organization, had given the Association great hopes of real progress toward a united industry until the organization bore every evidence of an effort to block the unity movement and explained the fallacy of the two price plan by which this latter organization proposes to market milk. "Our form of organization," said Mr. Slocum, "is designed to render every marketing service to the industry as a whole. Our memory cannot be so short that we have forgotten the two milk strikes of previous years and the terrible conditions that were facing us in the Fall of 1920.

"We are not a social society but a business organization. A good business is not built on compromise. I realize there is much to be accomplished that can only be accomplished by one united organization. This meeting today proves that we are moving in the right direction and we cannot afford to rain ground by first destroying our foundations.

"There are just two reasons for organization. One is to prevent inefficiency in distribution and the other is to stabilize markets by handling the surplus ourselves. Any organization that is organized on any line that does not take care of the surplus is accomplishing very much of a service. George R. Fitts of Cortland, League director, acted as toastmaster. In introducing Mr. Slocum, Mr. Fitts pointed out that the 5,000 members of the League in the territory represented at the meeting produced over $3,000,000 worth of milk last year. Fifty-six of the 200 milk plants operated by the League and 37 dealers' plants handling League milk are located in these ten central New York counties. This, Mr. Fitts pointed out is evidence of the important part played in League work by this section of the territory. The toastmaster also emphasized the members present the continuing importance of their efforts to increase the milk supply for the New York market this fall, urging the use of skim milk powder in the place of whole milk for calves two or three weeks old.

Vera McCrea, head of the League's Home Department spoke briefly on the importance of the home in rural organization work.

The entertainment part of the program included musical selections by a League trio and impersonations by "Diddle" Rush of Binghamton, the six year old wonder discovered by the League at its annual meeting in Binghamton on June 17. Hal Eppes, otherwise known as Healthy, the League milk clown, led the crowd in community singing.

The attendance at the meeting went beyond all expectations partly because it was President Slocum's first official visit to this part of League territory and also because of the acute interest among League dairymen aroused by the recent unsuccessful efforts of the Sheffield Farms Company and the United Dairymen's Association to prevent a 42 cent raise in the price of milk.

AGRICULTURE

Orderliness is one of the best ways to save labor.

Uncle Ab says the worst can never happen to a man who does his best.

Religion and science help mankind upward and onward; and the worship of beauty is a mighty help on the road.

Poultrymen usually make the most money when two-thirds to three-fourths of their flocks are pullets each year.

Large, rectangular fields are the cheapest to plow, for less time is lost on the turns and in plowing the headlands.

Every farmer has a chance to win some of the prize money offered by his county fair and by the state fair if he is willing to put up a fight for it.

Dairymen in New York State who are interested in the general movement against tuberculosis in cattle, may be interested in a Cornell bulletin which presents both sides of the campaign and tells about the problems involved. The bulletin may be had by writing to the office of publication at the college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y. Mention number F 146.

MORAN SCHOOL HAS DISTINGUISHED NAME

In announcing opening dates for the school year 1927-28, the Moran Business School, situated in the Burgevin Building, corner Fair and Main streets, calls the attention of Freeman readers to the fact that the name "Moran" has played an important part in the history of Kingston's educational development.

The older residents of the city and county will recall that for more than fifty years this name has been prominent in the field of education, having for twenty-five years been associated with the public school system in a major capacity, and for a similar period devoted with conspicuous success to the cause of business education. It will thus be seen that "Moran Training" is no mere catch phrase. On the contrary, it has had a very pronounced influence on the lives of many fathers and mothers who are now attesting their continued confidence by sending their sons and daughters to the school bearing the name that has been an inspiration and a help to them throughout the years.

Tuesday, September 6, will be the opening date for the Moran School's day sessions. Night school will be resumed one week later, Tuesday, September 13. This week students are registering daily for both day and night sessions. The school office is open from 8:30 to 5 o'clock.

Steel City Is Monument to Gary

Judge Elbert H. Gary Reared the City of Gary Among Sand Dunes and Today the City Bears the Impress of the Man.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 1 (AP).—Steel built Gary, and Gary is a perpetual memorial to the man whose name is linked with the growth of the industry in America.

Twenty-one years ago this fall Judge Elbert H. Gary, head of the newly organized United States Steel Corporation, clambered down a rude ladder over the side of a sand dune and watched a group of engineers stake a site for a new mill for the corporation.

He surveyed a scene of desolate waste. On all sides was shifting sand, with the pinnales of wind-blown dunes varying the flat expanse. A group of once white tents huddled in flapping dejection.

But the sorrowful landscape faded before the eyes of the man with the close-clipped mustache. He saw a new world center of steel-making at this foot of Lake Michigan, with its avenue of water to the iron ore fields. He visioned the rise of a great city.

Gary has a population of 100,000 today. The sloughs and the sand have disappeared and broad boulevards have been reared over them. And for seven miles along the lake front stretch the stacks of industry employing 25,000 men.

In its civic, business and religious life, Gary the city bears the impress of Gary the man. Through the years of expansion of United States Steel, the late industrial leader guided the growth of the fledgling city, helping with counsel and with money.

A great deal of the land within the city is owned by the industry around which it is built. The United States Steel Company opens subdivisions, sells the land and supervises the erection of homes.

As steel has grown Gary has prospered. In 1920 the city had a population of 50,000. At that time a revolutionary step was taken in the steel industry—the Pittsburgh plus plan was abandoned—and the industry forged ahead in an unprecedented manner. Gary kept step, doubling its population in seven years.

Where early residents once crossed a swamp over a crude footbridge, a $2,000,000 hotel is being completed, and there will be a vacant chair at the dedicatory banquet this fall in honor of Judge Gary.

The Gary "work-study-play" plan of education was developed here and used as a model for hundreds of other cities.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has completed a $1,000,000 edifice downtown. At the instance of Judge Gary, the steel corporation gave $500,000 towards the building. In a little uptown negro church a shaft in the vestibule is dedicated to Judge Gary, who helped build it.

The land for Gary's $3,000,000 civic center and municipal gateway along Lake Michigan was donated by the steel corporation, through Judge Gary's interests. A monument will be erected to him in the center of the project.

Gary's industries include the largest single steel plant in the world, a recently completed $20,000,000 plant to the National Tube Company, and the world's largest sheet mill and tin mills.

In 1906 the land could be had almost for the asking. The owners refused to pay taxes on it, declaring it worthless.

A cooling drink
for your Labor
Day holidays

"CANADA DRY" is an especially good drink for a hot summer day because it does not contain capicum (red pepper) in any form. Its fine flavor is the true ginger flavor because we use only the highest grade Jamaica ginger.

This ginger costs us considerably more than ordinary ginger, but we use it day after day and year after year in order to make "Canada Dry" the finest ginger ale that modern scientific methods can produce or money can buy.

We take great care in selecting this ginger and every step in its preparation is carefully supervised. We even grind it ourselves to make sure that it is not adulterated with the foreign substances sometimes found in ordinary commercial ginger. Drink "Canada Dry," therefore, because it isn't syrupy sweet like ordinary beverages, but crisp and keen with the delicate, inviting taste of real Jamaica ginger. Drink it because it cools and refreshes! Because it is served in the great hospitals of this country and of Canada and you know it is genuinely good for you.

for Fords that stays

BE WARY of so-called "non-chatter" oils whose effectiveness is only temporary. Here's the most remarkable motor oil for Fords you've ever used — Atlantic N. C. Paraffine base — non-chatter qualities that will not wear off, evaporate or give off objectionable odors. It stays efficient.

Not only is Atlantic N. C. a splendid Ford motor lubricant, but an immediate and sure relief for "chatter." Makes transmission bands smooth, soft, pliable. They take hold evenly . . . no grab-and-let-go. They last much longer. So will your whole car.

Use Atlantic N. C. all the time. The wear-and-tear it saves pays for the oil many times over. Give it a chance to prove its marvelous qualities. Drive to the nearest dealer displaying the Atlantic red-white-and-blue motor oil sign and get a filling.

Farmers Use Roads Least

Travel on 20 Typical Highways in New York Originated Mostly From Towns and Cities.

Farmers in New York state are not to blame if the highways wear out and need repairing, if figures recently compiled by economists at Cornell University tell the whole story. On 29 typical roads, two of which are dirt roads, four are county or town highways and 23 are state roads, less than four per cent of the traffic or about one-thirtieth originated on farms within the county.

Traffic originating within the counties where the information was gathered was 35 per cent of the total. Traffic from other counties in New York state was 48 per cent, and out-of-state traffic was 14 per cent. Three per cent was horses, motorcycles, and miscellaneous, while four per cent came from farms within the county.

New York roads have ceased to be local, the economists say, for even the dirt roads are used extensively for interurban travel, and county and town roads are primarily inter-state or interurban highways.

Local travel such as originates within the township is less in rural townships than in townships that have incorporated villages or cities or that have industrial or business establishments which employ residents of the township.

Information on the travel at grade crossings gathered at 14 typical crossings in the state showed that travel originating within the townships ranged from one to 38 per cent of the total and averaged 13 per cent. Traffic originating within the county varied, at these crossings, from six per cent to 75 and averaged 40 per cent.

The economists at the college point out that the present laws require that 25 per cent of the cost of eliminating a grade crossing shall be paid by the townships. A proposed amendment to the state constitution to be before the voters this fall would change this. Judgment must be used, they say, to avoid injustice to poorer communities in apportioning this cost.

Climbing Race Up The Whiteface

Wilmington, N. Y., Sept. 1 (AP).—Adirondack mountaineers, including summer visitors as well as natives, will match endurance in a six and a half mile climbing race up Whiteface Mountain next Monday.

The event is being promoted by the American Legion post at Lake Placid. Starting from this village of Wilmington on the west branch of the Au Sable river the climbers will follow the route of the proposed memorial highway to the summit of the peak where at an altitude of 4572 feet above sea level, it is proposed to erect a memorial monument to the soldiers of New York state who gave their lives in the World War. Whiteface is one of the highest mountains in the state.

There are to be two separate marathons, one for amateurs, the other for professionals. Many entries have been received for both events. In the professional race stunt climbers, residents of resort colonies who do much climbing, and a number of Adirondack guides and woodsmen of the Whiteface region have been entered. The winner will receive a purse of $100 and a silver cup. The amateur race will be for youths under eighteen and the winner will get a trophy, but no cash prize.

The contest has aroused great interest throughout the Adirondack region and it is expected that a large crowd will be assembled here and along the lower slopes of the course when the starter fires his gun at 10 o'clock on the morning of Labor Day.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Sept. 1.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will hold its business meeting Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Miss Maria Hasbrouck.

Friends and neighbors are extending their sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. James Cantine who died Tuesday morning at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Van Winkle. She was the wife of the Rev. Dr. Cantine, former missionary to Arabia.

Miss Pauline Palen has returned home from the Benedictine Hospital, of Kingston.

Communion will be observed at the Reformed Church next Sunday at the 10:30 service. Sunday school convenes at 11:45. At 7:30 Thursday the union choir rehearsal will be held. The Community Gospel Service will be held in the Reformed Church next Sunday night. This will be the last church service until September 25 on account of the pastor's vacation. The pastor has urged his people to attend the Methodist Church during this time.

Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Bishop and daughter, Vivian, visited relatives Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Winne, of Arlington, N. J., last week end.

The birthday of the Rev. C. Van Tol last Thursday was the occasion of two delightful social events. On Wednesday evening the pastor and his wife and the consistory of the Reformed Church gathered around the birthday table in the parsonage and spent a pleasant evening together.

Then on Thursday evening upon returning from choir rehearsal the pastor found several families waiting in surprise party formation. One of the chief attractions consisted of a birthday cake with a ten-dollar gold piece in the center of it.

The Grange meeting last Monday night was largely attended.

The Gospel Campaign in progress at the Methodist Church will culminate next Sunday morning, according to announcement. "Obeying the Heavenly Vision" is the subject of the message to be delivered by the pastor at the 11 o'clock service. "The Unguarded Gate" is the title of the object-lesson sermonette to the children at this service. "The Curse of Conventional Christianity and Its Cure" is the theme to be discussed by the Rev. Jay Holmes Smith in the Community Gospel Service in the Reformed Church next Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The Rev. James V. Taylor of Shrub Oak, N. Y., who has been working with the pastor in the Gospel Campaign, will return to his charge Saturday morning.

ATWOOD

Atwood, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Tom Hansen has returned from the hospital and is convalescing in the Gothompson home.

Charles Gerwin visited with his friends, the Hoff family, in New York last week.

The Hess family have returned to their home in Staten Island.

"How Is Your Vision?" is the subject of the message to be delivered in the Community Church by the Rev. Jay Holmes Smith next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, standard time. The Sunday school session begins at 2:30 with classes and story papers for all children and adults. The choir will render special music in the church service.

Tom Hansen visited his family in their summer home last Sunday.

George Jansen has been undergoing a severe illness, but is reported as slightly improved at present.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

WHO IS YOUR HERO?

A SHORT time ago the police of a great city picked up on the street a destitute boy of fifteen. He was ragged and hungry. When they searched him at the station house the only thing they found in his pockets was a bit of crumpled paper upon which had been written as the title "My Heroes" and underneath were listed these names:

Theodore Roosevelt.
General Pershing.
Jesse James.
Tracy the Bandit.
Captain Kidd.

A strange and interesting list and yet there are comprehensible reasons for the presence of every name that filled this youthful individual's list of fame.

We begin to choose our heroes very early in life. The story of "Jack and the Beanstalk" has furnished many a boy with his first ideal of bravery. "Robinson Crusoe"—the characters of James Fenimore Cooper—even the overdrawn adventures of the old "yellow covers" and "The Nickel Library" and Cap Collier's creations thrilled many of us to ambitions which faded away with boyhood.

One thing is certain: No boy ever worshiped a man as a hero unless in his opinion he had done something extraordinary, something that really entitled him to admiration.

If we pick our heroes for the purposes of imitation we should be very careful. Not many men in all history were desirable of imitation in all the details of their lives. Every great man has some weakness. An ideal hero would have to be a composite man, a combination of the great without their faults.

The most popular hero that ever lived was undoubtedly Napoleon. But of him Robert Ingersoll said in one of the greatest of his short addresses that he would rather be the humblest of French peasants than the man at whose command hundreds of thousands had died.

Who is your hero? Why is he your hero?

"There is no earthly ailment but somewhere God hath an herb for its healing," says a quaint writer. The trouble is that we think the herb has a hard foreign name. We seek it in far lands, but at last find it in our own garden plot.

SAVORY FOODS

When preparing an omelet, if the dish is to take the place of meat, add one-half cupful of chopped nuts to the omelet just before folding. Almonds, blanched, dried and turned into the hot butter just before the omelet, is another good way of making a nourishing egg dish. They will not cook too brown before the egg is ready to fold.

Savory Carrots.—Scrape young, tender carrots and cut into long thin strips. Wash well, put into a saucepan with one and one-half cupfuls of tomatoes, one teaspoonful of salt and two tablespoonfuls of butter. The carrots should measure a pint. Bring to the boiling point, then reduce the heat and cook until the tomato is absorbed. This dish can be eaten by one wishing to reduce. It is rich in lime, iron and vitamins A, B and C.

Stuffed Green Peppers.—Select four large peppers and remove the seeds and membrane. Parboil for five minutes in boiling water to cover. Fill with cooked rice, tomato and nuts. Green peas in a cream sauce make a delightful filling. Leftover meats may be chopped and combined with crumbs and seasoning, also making another tasty filling. Cover the tops of the peppers when filled with buttered crumbs and bake until well heated and brown.

Baked Hash.—Chop fine one or two cupfuls of yesterday's roast beef, add twice the quantity of cold boiled potatoes chopped fine, two onions (small ones) sliced thin, and butter with gravy to moisten. Add water or broth if necessary and bake in the oven until brown.

Appetizing Breakfast Eggs.—Fry two eggs and pour over them three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, add a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and serve.

Fruit Gems.—Take one cupful of corn meal, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half cupful each of raisins and currants, and one-half cupful of cream; beat thoroughly and bake in buttered gem pans.

I've found a new soap that soaks out stains

NEVER saw clothes get clean so easily—and so safely!

I just soak my week's wash in the rich, mild Rinso suds. Rinso soaks out the dirt and stains. They float right off by themselves, and I haven't a bit of hard rubbing to do.

Rinso is a different kind of laundry soap—granulated. It's so economical. It's all freed on washday. No bars, soaps, chips or powders. Rinso alone makes our water wonderfully soapy.

It's so easy on my hands, too. They don't get red now, as they did with old-fashioned soaps and powders.

My friend tells me Rinso is great in her washer. The makers of 30 leading machines endorse it.

Two-Piece Frocks in Winsome Tones

Combinations of Colors Present Opportunities for All Classes.

Now that the majority of one's dresses are made in two pieces, how many take advantage of this fact to work out attractive and interesting interchanges of blouses and skirts?

A tendency to wear colored sweaters with white or with natural colored skirts is lately noted. From Paris comes a rumor of the combination of pink blouses with navy-blue skirts, and in many shops are displayed unusual jacket costumes or two-piece dresses, one part of which is quite a different tone from the other.

This vogue presents opportunities, both for the woman of limited income and for the one whose wardrobe allowance knows no bounds. For those in the first category, a glimpse into some of these possibilities may be of interest. One will begin, for instance, with a two-piece dress of beige crepe de chine and another consisting of plaited black crepe skirt and white crepe blouse. These two costumes, it will be noted, are interchangeable, provided that care in their selection has been taken.

A separate blouse of red crepe may be bought, which will entirely change the character of the black skirt for a day at the races, whereas the purchase of a beige lace blouse will change the street dress into a dinner dress, at a moment's notice. A horizontally striped beige and black sweater would be equally effective with either skirt, while for a morning on the tennis court, a sleeveless white linen blouse is a possibility.

For the girl whose lot is cast in the city, one cannot recommend too strongly a plaited black or navy skirt, with a matching three-quarter-length coat. She may wear blouses of any color, degree of formality, or material, and will always find herself well dressed for daytime occasions.

Her hat will repeat the color note of the blouse, while her shoes may remain the practical black. A few suggestions for blouses, in addition to the ubiquitous Vionnet blouse of silk, are those of candy-striped tub silks, or handkerchief linen, of flowered cotton prints, or of checked gingham, while the lightweight sweaters in lace effect present further selections.

For the older woman, this idea is also practicable, although she will do better to confine her choice to silks, colorful prints, or fine stripes, and satin crepe worked in both sides of the material. Her blouses should be longer—the finger-tip length is smart—and, for the majority, these should have the deep V, rever or surplice openings, which are so well suited to the figures and years of the mature woman.

For one and all, the importance of combining colors cannot be too strongly emphasized. We have been slaves for some time now to the "matching" idea. Now we must go a step further and mix two colors. Red and blue, gray and black, green and yellow, violet and blue, rose and beige, mauve and brown, blue and green white or black with all colors—the unions are endless, and the more subtle they are, the more interesting from the fashion point of view.

Fashionable Fur Coat of Black and White Karacul

Barbara Kent, popular silver screen leading lady, appearing in the motion picture, "Now I'll Tell One," wears this fur coat which has been popular during the season. It is made of black and white karacul, with collar and cuffs of white fox fur.

Feminine Modes Becoming

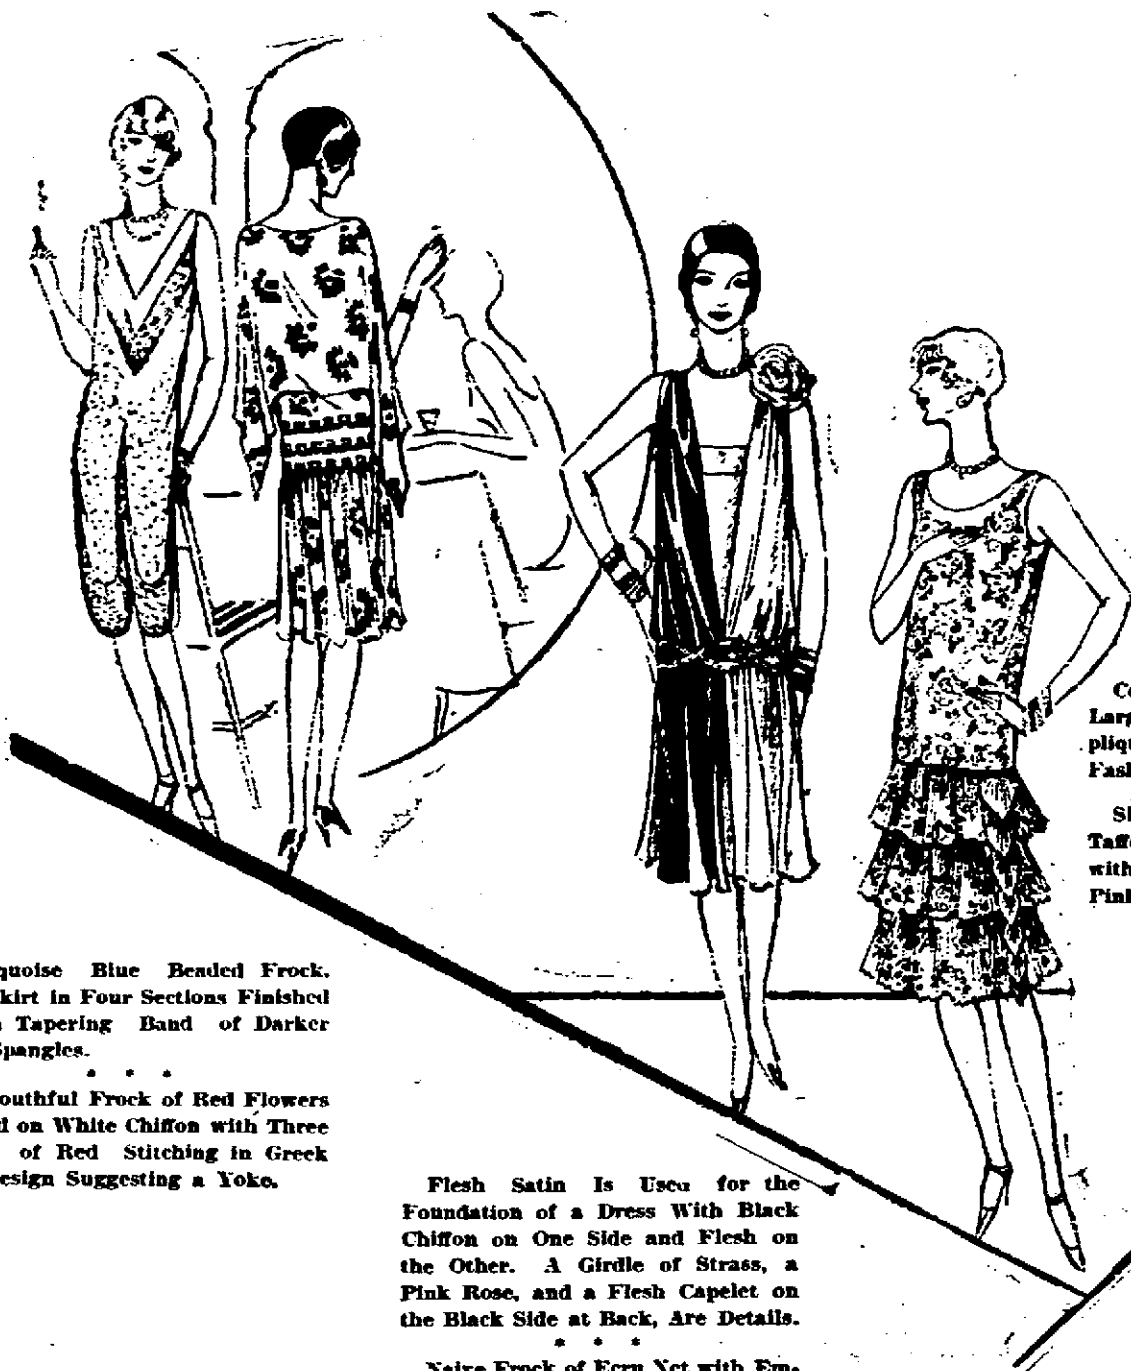

Feminine types of suits are apt to be more becoming to the average woman than mannish types. If one feels that a suit suits her personality and purpose this season, it might be well to try on some of the bolero or ensemble types before finally deciding.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Silhouettes Continue to Emphasize Movement by Graceful Wing Draperies, Fan-like Panels, and Other Scarf-like Additions.

New York.—Winged and fish-tailed evening gowns add grace and movement to the scene, in addition to being invariably flattering, no matter what the proportions of the wearer. No wonder, then, that so many of the newer frocks repeat these themes. It seems to be unimportant whether the flowing ends fall from the hip, the center of the girdle, the shoulder, or, for that matter, the back, so long as they ripple and add irregularity to the ishment, while others adhere to the old school and insist that one-sided treatments are the more flattering. It seems to depend on the material and purpose of the gown.

For daytime clothes, when presumably the choice runs to velvets, velveteens, woollens, and the heavier crepes, such as Moroccan, balanced or more tailored treatments appear the happiest choice, while for evening, one is rather partial to side draperies, and such wings and panels as furnish a scarf-like suggestion. Obviously, gowns of this type should be of a diaphanous fabric, preferably chiffon, although georgette at the moment is very well liked as a substitute for chiffon, that everlasting of fabrics.

Combinations of both chiffon and georgette with velvet are voted smart, and permit of an interesting opportunity for combining colors. Velvet, either in pile or panne surfaces, is regarded as of first importance for afternoon and for evening, and one will have an opportunity to choose from many novelties, many of which are light weight, and a few of which are transparent.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

The lead of the Chicago Cubs in the National League tag race stood at one game today. At one time early in the last eastern invasion by the Windy City players they had a margin of six full games, but today their supremacy was in dispute. First place was the stakes for which the McCarthy Braves and the Pittsburgh Pirates were to contest today in Pittsburgh.

While the Cubs were idle yesterday the Pirates were winning both ends of a doubleheader from the lowly Phillies. The Bucs had to toil 13 long innings for a 3-2 decision in the opener but staged a four-run spurge in the ninth inning of the second for a 7-2 victory. Ulrich and Albridge engaged in a test of pitching skill in the first contest. Carmen Hill assumed the pitching burden in the tenth inning and was credited with his 19th win of the season. Jack Scott was unable to puzzle the Pirates in the aftermath, Donie Bush's men getting 15 safe hits from his slants.

The world's champion St. Louis Cardinals gained a little ground over the Giants by trimming Brooklyn 3-1. But when allowed the Robins only four hits. Bill Doak was taken out in the seventh after granting nine hits. Blades, St. Louis outfielder, was hit on the head and had to be carried from the field.

Adolpho Luque, Cincinnati right-hander, held the Boston Braves in check and earned a 1-0 victory. The Cuban gave only six hits. The Reds scored the lone run of the game in the eighth on Hargrave's single, a walk and hits by Drennon and Walker.

The Yankees returned to New York and trampled under the Boston Red Sox, 10-3. Ruffing fanned Ruth, Gehrig and Meusel in order in the first with two runners on the bases but the Yanks got to him later for 13 hits, including two home runs by Tony Lazzeri and another by Babe Ruth, whose total now stands at 42, no better than Lou Gehrig's. George Pipgras, pitching for the Hugmen, had things pretty much his way and the Bostonians seriously threatened only in the ninth.

After 12 straight defeats Washington trounced the Mackmen, 5-3, with Ernie Hadley doing the pitching. The recruit dealt out ten bases on balls but tightened in the pinches and received good support. Goalin led the Nationals' attack with a home run and a triple. It was the beginning of Cobb's 23rd season in major league baseball, 22 of which were spent in Detroit. The Georgian contributed a single in his only time at bat.

The Browns broke their losing streak and drubbed Detroit in both games of a doubleheader, 3-1 and 4-3. Home runs by Ken Williams and Ernie Rice figured prominently in both victories. Although St. Louis used three pitchers in the second game Detroit gathered only three hits.

STUDEBAKER REORGANIZED.

TO MEET PAN-AM CLUB.

The Studebaker nine, once one of the fastest sand-lot clubs in this vicinity, have reorganized and during the remainder of the season expect to play several of the local clubs. They will stack up against the Pan-Am on the new Georgetown road diamond Friday at 6:15. The Pan-Am will have their regular lineup in the field while the Studebakers will be made up of an aggregation including Jimmy Volker, Marty Carr, Tommy Davitt and "Dutch" Norton.

Colonials Won At Cooperstown

The Colonials took a 4-1 contest from Cooperstown Wednesday on the latter's diamond. Bud Culleton, hurried for the locals and allowed seven hits while his teammates found Keechle, of the Otsego nine, for ten blows.

The Culleton-Robins team played errorless ball and were permitted to corral their lone run in the final stanza when Sloane registered a double and scored after Detore hit for one base. Culleton tightened and spoiled the chances of a rally by fanning the next three players to face him.

Today the Colonials are scheduled to meet Chief Mueller's aggregation at Poughkeepsie. Just who will take the mound against the Bridge City nine has not been announced.

TEDDY BALDOCK WILL DEFEND HIS TITLE.

London, Sept. 1 (AP).—Teddy Baldock, bantamweight champion of the world, will defend his title for the first time this fall.

A match has been arranged by the International Sports Syndicate between Baldock and Willie Smith, the South African champion, and the contest will take place at the Royal Albert Hall not later than October.

Baldock reached the world's title in a contest with Archie Bell.

Smith, who had a remarkable career as an amateur, represented South Africa at the Olympic Games in Paris in 1924, when he won the world's amateur championship.

In spite of many offers to turn professional he returned to South Africa as an amateur, but about two years ago he relinquished his amateur status. A victory recently over Johnny Brown, the British champion, is one of his outstanding achievements.

Record Price For Outfielder

Richmond, Va., Sept. 1 (AP).—Earl Clark, hard hitting Richmond outfielder, who has been sold to the Boston Nationals for $15,000, has the distinction of having brought the highest price ever paid for a player in the Virginia League.

Clark is only 19 years old and comes from the same circuit which sent to the majors Pie Traynor of the Pirates, Hack Wilson of the Cubs, Kent Greenfield of the Braves, Bill Clark and Burleigh Grimes of the Giants, and many other stars.

Traynor and Wilson are reported to have brought $10,000 each and now are ranked as two of the outstanding young stars of the big leagues.

Speed is Clark's forte. He clips the century in ten seconds flat and though a right handed batter, he gets to first sooner than most of the fast class of left swingers. A good eye for the ball and this speed has given him a batting average of .356 to date this season.

"If he batted left-handed," his former team mates contend, "the opposing team could never get him out."

Says Old Timers Would Score 75

Gabby Street Claims Mard Mitters of Olden Days Would Break Ruth's Record Under Conditions Today.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 1 (AP).—If some of the hard hitters in baseball of the olden days were now playing in their prime, under conditions today, the home-run record of Babe Ruth would never stand. So thinks Gabby Street, Walter Johnson's battery mate for six years and now manager of the Columbia South Atlantic Association team.

"If Nap Lajoie, Sam Crawford, Ed Deleahanty and Buck Freeman, for example, were playing now," he says, "We would see a home run record of 75 a season, I believe."

"They now have the lively ball, I honestly think the quartet I have named, playing with that ball and having pitchers forbidden to use freak deliveries—the spit ball, the shine ball, the emery ball, all of which the old batters had to meet—would set records that would make the best of this generation look ordinary."

"Even the playing fields favor the batters. They are now surrounded by seats on all sides. It used to be that the bleachers and grand-stands were on the sidelines, with a wide open territory to the back, in which fielders could range unhampered."

"We used to play for blood," Street recalls. "But high salaries, even for mediocre players, have made the game more gentle—nothing but a financial proposition. And the game's not as fast as it was in the old days, in my opinion."

"There is a whole lot more of this 'excuse me, please' stuff and 'Alphonse and Gaston' behavior now than there used to be. But you can't blame the players. They've got to take care of themselves. They simply can't afford, as a business matter, to take unnecessary chances by roughing it up, with the prospects of cutting short their days in the game."

Street, a native of Huntsville, Ala., began playing professional ball in 1902 with Hopkinsville, Ky. Although not quite 15, he went to Cincinnati in 1904 and played through the next year. After a year's seasoning with San Francisco, Gabby joined Washington, where he remained until 1913, when he donned a New York Yankee uniform. Since he left the major league he has been playing with and managing minor teams.

George Clinton, First Governor

Soldier and Statesman. He Was Ulster County Clerk for 32 Years and for 45 Years was in State or Federal Office.

(By Frank Brittaner, Publicity Director, State Historian's Staff.) Perhaps no leader of the Revolutionary period so greatly resembled George Washington, "The Father of His Country," as did Governor George Clinton, New York State's first Chief Executive and "The Father of the Empire State."

Attention has often been called to the fact that their faces bore a striking resemblance but it is much more important to realize that their minds, motives, and ideals of life were alike. Both came from the farm, both appreciated learning in a frontier community, both saw service in the French and Indian War, both championed the cause for American independence, both became military leaders of renown in the Revolutionary War, both served in the Continental Congress and both emerged from trying days of the period as trusted statesmen, one as president and the other as vice-president of the new republic.

Clinton, born at Little Britain, Ulster county, on July 26, 1739, was seven years younger than George Washington. Differing only fundamentally in political convictions—the one of humble origin and the other an aristocrat—they were loyal and trusted friends from the time that they met in Philadelphia in 1776.

When first Independence was captured by the revolutionary Ethan Allen and the Green Mountain Boys on May 10, 1777, Clinton was 38 years of age. His father, Charles Clinton, had emigrated from Ireland to Ulster county 20 years before the birth of George and had become a man of local prominence. His two oldest sons, Alexander and Charles, entered the military profession. James, the third son, followed a military career. George, the youngest, became a soldier and statesman. With the father and the two brothers, George, at the age of 17, gained military experience as an officer in the French and Indian War which, no doubt, schooled him for his rapid rise to generalship in the Revolution.

Meanwhile Clinton entered the law office of William Smith, an able and scholarly attorney in New York city, and later was admitted to the bar. Through the colonial governor, George Clinton, a distant relative, he was appointed clerk of Ulster county, an office that he held continuously for 53 years. In 1768 at the age of 27 he was elected to the New York Colonial Assembly where, during the next seven years, he obtained his first political experience and matured his political convictions. As the Revolution approached, he became an ardent champion of the patriotic cause and in 1774 served as a member of the New York Committee of Correspondence. In 1775 he was sent as a delegate to the Second Continental Congress where he consistently championed the rise of the colonies and in 1776 favored separation from the mother country in spite of the fact that his inspirations from the New York Provincial Congress prevented his voting for the Declaration of Independence.

Knowing about Clinton's military experience, Washington on July 7, 1776, sent him to take charge of the defense of the Highlands on the Hudson. As a Brigadier-General in the Continental Army he was assigned to the defense of Forts Montgomery and Clinton, important defenses of the lower Hudson, against British invasion.

In June, 1777, contrary to the expectations of the political leaders of New York and in a field of candidates for the executive office composed of men like Philip Schuyler, John Morin Scott, and Robert R. Livingston, Clinton's popularity won for him by an overwhelming majority of votes the election to both offices of Governor and Lieutenant Governor on July 9, 1777. Typical of his modesty and good judgment, Clinton when informed of the election to dual executive positions, suggested that if his inclinations had been consulted he would have declined both offices and promptly resigned the latter.

A threatened British expedition up the Hudson required Clinton's immediate attention so that he was not able to leave his post at once and journey to Kingston, the first State capital, to receive the plaudits of the citizens who had honored him. He took the oath of office on July 30, 1777, at Kingston.

For six long years Governor Clinton carried a double burden, one military and the other political. He was a general in the Continental army; head of the State Militia and Governor of the Empire State.

During this period it was due to him more than to any other individual, according to historians, that the foe did not conquer New York state. He recruited the Continental forces, encouraged the dispirited militia, compelled civilians to furnish necessary supplies, bolstered up the wretched financial system and induced the people to pay taxes.

In appreciation of his leadership, the citizens of New York state continued his gubernatorial office until 1857 making 18 years of official life without a break. Again in 1801 they re-elected him for another term of three years. No Governor since his day has been so honored.

Under his guidance agriculture and commerce in New York state were put on their feet and the western lands rapidly filled with new citizens. At the same time the territorial boundaries of the state were valiantly defended against the claims of sister commonwealths. Treaties with Indians brought security to the frontier settlements. Plans were set on foot to connect Lake Ontario and Lake Champlain with the Hudson River by canals.

At the same time Clinton was a fervent believer in the establishment of free schools, academies and colleges. To this end the University of the State of New York was erected under the Board of Regents.

For 45 years George Clinton devoted himself to the service of his country, colony, state and nation. He was one of the real builders of America: bold, fearless, resourceful, frank, cooperative and richly endowed with a sound judgment and common sense, a trusted friend and stalwart foe he won the devotion of the common people and compelled the admiration of the aristocratic class.

The 150th anniversary of Governor Clinton's inauguration forms an important part of the state sesquicentennial program at Kingston on September 10. The memorial services will be held at 10:30 a. m. beside Clinton's tomb in the churchyard of the First Reformed Church.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

A static afternoon and early evening Wednesday was followed by fair reception later in the evening. WBZ spread so far and was so strong that it overwhelmed WCAU, although the signal from the Philadelphia station could be heard. WTAG, lost in the June shuffle and usually uniting with WCAU to form a squeal, was heard clearly. All eastern stations were strong, and from the west came KYW, WJR, WLS, WLW, WOC and WTAM. WSM and WJAX were heard in the south. WJZ or WGY alone furnished a good entertainment for anyone who cared to tune in on either.

ORDER INSTRUMENTS FOR LEGION CORPS

Several legionnaires met Wednesday evening in the Memorial building to discuss further plans for the formation of the legion drum corps. A list of the instruments needed was made up and an order will be placed for same today or Friday. It is expected that they will be here during the coming week. The boys are anxious to begin functioning and those who have signed up for the corps are asked to keep in touch with each other so they can be on hand at the next meeting when each member will be assigned an instrument. Enough instruments to start a 27 piece corps have been ordered. More pieces will be added as needed.

Must Boost State Apples

New York Fruit Can't Compete with Other Fruit Unless Handled and Packed Better.

If New York state is to hold its place as a leader in apple production, growers must improve the reputation of their product, according to Professor F. W. Peck at the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

As New York apples hang on the trees at harvest time, they are as fine in quality as money can buy, but they are so likely to be mishandled between the time they leave the tree and when they reach the consumer that they are likely to lose the confidence of the public.

New York growers must realize that their fruit competes with apples from other sections and with other fruit as well, according to Professor Peck so, to meet this competition, they must give more care to handling, grading, and packing, so it will be in demand and will be preferred to other fruit.

Each year growers spend vast amounts of money for fertilizers, labor, spraying materials, and all kinds of equipment so they can grow and handle a crop well. As yet, however, few growers, dealers or handlers realize that apples must be handled carefully at each step from the time they leave the trees until they reach the consumer.

Some growers who realize they must win the confidence of consumers have established brands for their fruit and then they pack it so that it maintains a good reputation. These brands bring good prices. A large amount of apples grown in New York state are not handled, graded, or packed to win the confidence of buyers, however. The longer New York growers neglect to win the confidence of the trade, the harder it will be for them to come back when they decide to try.

If you want an ideal to remain one don't realize it.
